SPEAKER BIO

HARRY CHALLENGER

Harry Challenger is a UFO and alien contact researcher from near London in the U.K. Starting from 1996 he was part of a UFO group called ELUFON that published a London based UFO magazine called down to Earth, Harry has a long term interest in UFO journalism, editing the worlds oldest UFO magazine Flying Saucer Review (FSR) from 2004 to present. Harry also founded The UFO Academy with Catrine O'Neil in 2010, a prestige venue based near London for the free and open discussion of UFOs, alien intelligence and the paranormal. Challenger was most fortunate to study under one of the founders of the UFO subject former diplomat and linguist the late Gordon Creighton who saw his first flying saucer in 1941 near the Tibetan border. Challenger follows the FSR brand of ufology which is truly internationalist, taking the work of enthusiast's direct research on the phenomenon from all over the world and presenting it to English speaking audiences.
